Out

Montreal, April 25.—Over a million dollars loaned by the Bank of British North America and the Canadian Bank of Commerce in the United States, has been called back since Saturday. Very little of this will be used for call loans, as the most of it will be loaned to corporations. The banks also want to make a good showing in their half yearly statement which will be made up at the end of the present month. When the announcement was made that the loans had been recalled, a rumor got abroad that the reason for the action was a feeling of distrust as to the financial outlook in the States and that a panic would soon come. These rumors have been contradicted by the bank manager giving the true reason as above mentioned.

Navigation companies will reach the city for a week yet.

Port Hope, April 25.—The top story of Trinity college was burned yesterday. Loss $5,000.

Ottawa, April 25.—The Supreme Court meets on Monday. Chief Justice Strong and Judge Patterson are indisposed.

Winning News
Winnipeg, April 25.—The Red River is rising fast and is still 11 feet below its banks.

There are no new cases of small pox. The supposed case in the south end of the city was proved to be only a case of chicken pox. The war has almost subsided.

The McGowen scandal
Ottawa, April 25.—Certain parties in this city have spread the rumor of late that the McGowen case was hanged at L'Orignal, on June 1, 1891, for the ravishing and murder of the two McGowen girls at Cumberland, and the man was hanged. The guilty parties are now alleged to be two residents of the village where the unfortunate girls lived. They were English speaking roughs and were addicted to drink, it is said.

Immediately after the tragic affair they left the vicinity and went over to the other side of the Ottawa River, that is to say on the Buckingham side. Here they engaged a mine to mine in the phosphate region, it is reported, and worked together, knowing jointly their terrible secret.

The other day the partners in crime fell out, and one in his passion "peached" on the other, alleging that he himself had been led into committing the diabolical deed through the party he was aggrieved at. One of their fellow workers, while making an affidavit, said that the statement was a lie in principle, there would be changes in detail.

Sir Henry Tyler Blamed
London, April 25.—Grand truck is so far unaccountable for the unfavorable report. The Westminster Gazette says the Grand Truck report has become a matter of common history. The paper says that Sir Henry Tyler in the past, but it is impossible to determine if he is now doing the best possible for the company.

THE MANAGER'S SAFF

What are you doing here?
Nothing, sir.

The question had been asked by a man in a top hat and a long coat, who was looking at the manager with a curious expression.

The manager, who was a man of middle age and a well-to-do appearance, looked at the man with a questioning glance.

"What are you doing here?" he asked, "and what business have you with me?"

"I am a stranger in this city," the man replied, "and I am looking for a place to stay."

The manager looked at him for a moment, then he turned and walked away, leaving the man standing there, looking after him with a puzzled expression.
